1961-1990 Average annual precipitation (inches) for Tehama County, California

The Tehama County Resource Conservation District (TCRCD) is a nonregulatory public agency whose mission is “to assist citizens with managing, conserving, and improving the natural resources of Tehama County.” Currently, more than 50 citizen volunteers participate in the TCRCD rain monitoring program at sites scattered throughout the county's watersheds.